Gross Income Tax, Amended, to Continue As Lehman Requested

Although Action Will Not Be Taken Until Next Week, Survey Shows That Senate Is Favorably Disposed Toward Measure—$2,500 Exemption for Married Persons.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 15 (AP).—Governor Lehman's one per cent emergency income tax, commonly known as the "gross income tax," will be amended and continued for another year as the governor recommended, a survey of legislative leaders indicated today.

The bill was favorably reported by the Senate committee on taxation yesterday and made its first appearance on the calendar today. It will come up for action next week.

This was the only one of the governor's tax proposals which was threatened with serious opposition. A few weeks ago there was a move under way to repeal it before the first payment was due on April 15.

Governor Lehman, however, has already removed the most objectionable feature of the measure when he amended it to allow personal exemptions of $2,500 for married persons, $1,000 for single persons and $400 for each dependent. Most of the opposition to the original bill arose because the small salaried man was affected.

In the amended form it is virtually the same as the regular personal income tax except that it prevents deductions for capital losses and thus avoids tax dodging to a large extent.

The change would cut the estimated revenue from the tax down from $27,000,000 to $24,000,000, but would still leave an estimated surplus of more than $6,000,000 at the end of the 1934-35 fiscal year.

There are two bills now in the Senate committee on taxation proposing repeal of the measure altogether, but legislative leaders said there was little likelihood of their passage.

Meanwhile, proponents of the two per cent retail sales tax continued to push their fight and it appeared that the only real tax controversy would center on this measure. Governor Lehman is understood to be strongly opposed to such a tax and has already recommended discontinuance of the one per cent emergency sales tax.

Senator George R. Fearon and Assemblyman James J. Wadsworth, sponsors of the bill, today pointed out in a joint statement that it is entirely different from the present sales tax in that the consumer would be compelled to pay it instead of the merchant, and 90 per cent of the revenue would be returned to cities, towns, villages and school districts to apply on indebtedness.

"It is strictly untrue that this tax will impose an undue hardship on the 'little fellow,'" they said. "The man with small income spends a very large proportion of his salary for things that are exempt from taxation. He will pay no tax on his rent, on his newspapers, on any purchase under five cents, on his gas and electric light bills, on his street car fare, nor will there be any tax on his salary or wages."

They pointed out that, according to State Tax Commissioner John J. Merrill, who drafted the bill, a man with a salary of $1,000 a year will pay less than three cents a day. "This tax," the statement continued, "will not put the burden on any one. On the other hand, it will materially reduce real estate taxes in every community in the state and it is the real estate tax which is the most burdensome."

The supporters of the bill also claim that it would help New York city out of its financial difficulties without the aid of any special legislation. New York would get 55 per cent of the 90 per cent distributed to local governments.

"It seems certain that these funds would enable New York city to balance its budget and balance it this year," the statement said.

ELLENVILLE MAN SUSTAINS DOUBLE LEG FRACTURE

Ellenville, Feb. 15.—Antone Hernandez of Pine street, this village, had the misfortune to break his leg in two places while attending to his duties as express at the Summitville station Thursday afternoon. The accident occurred when Mr. Hernandez was transferring some baggage and stumbled on a small object. Dr. Holcombe was called and the injured man was taken to the Veterans' Memorial Hospital, where X-ray pictures were taken and the double break discovered.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, Feb. 15 (AP).—The position of the treasury February 14 was: Receipts, $157,069,545.51; expenditures, $91,766,327.58; balance, $65,303,217.93. Customs receipts for the month, $11,735,915.01. Coldest February Recorded by State

New York, Feb. 15 (AP).—A cold snap, riding on a 10-mile north wind, today sent the temperature to nine degrees above zero.

At midnight the mercury registered 25 degrees above, but from that hour the drop was steady until the low mark was reached at 9 a. m.

Thus, this month has been the coldest February in the history of the New York weather bureau. The average day temperature for the first half month was 19 degrees above zero, comparing with a previous low average of 23.1 degrees established in February, 1935.

Bankers Join Utility Forces in Battle Over Lehman's Power Plan

Union of Two Interests to Be Made Manifest Tuesday When Legislature Takes Up Case of Light and Gas Companies—Two New Developments.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 15 (AP).—Bankers will line up with the utility companies against Governor Lehman's proposal for municipal power plants when the legislature takes up the case of the electric light and gas companies Tuesday.

State Senator Philip Kleinfeld's demand for a legislative investigation of New York city utilities, now pending before the Senate, has added fuel to the controversy that is certain to break out at the hearing.

There were renewed efforts today to defeat any legislation that might impair the value of their investments. There have been two developments in this connection since Kleinfeld asked the Senate yesterday for a thorough investigation of rates, competition and cost of service to the companies and other phases of utility operation in New York city.

(1) Trust Company officers of the New York City Bankers' Association announced in Albany they had adopted a resolution protesting that proposed laws would "destroy the value" of many utility investments.

(2) The New York Power and Light Corporation, one of the state's largest utilities, urged its stockholders to appear at Tuesday's hearing to oppose the municipal operation and five-per-cent return bill.

The trust company officers' resolution was adopted at a meeting in New York city yesterday. Opposition was expressed to any legislation permitting unregulated municipal competition with private utilities "without first providing for the purchase of such private companies at fair value."

"Such legislation will destroy the value of the securities of well managed public utility companies in which hundreds of millions of trust funds committed to the trust company officers' care are now invested," the announcement said.

The trust company executives also protested that other states would follow the lead of New York in any such legislation.

They also opposed limiting the earnings of utility companies to five per cent.

The letter to New York Power and Light Corporation stockholders was signed by Otto Snyder, of Albany, president.

It called for stockholder protests against the legislation, but explained: "This company never has opposed legislation giving the Public Service Commission all necessary power to provide the lowest rates consistent with good service and a fair and reasonable return."

Snyder said the courts had held a reasonable return to be between seven and eight per cent.

Mother Accused Her Son of $250 Theft

Mrs. Ella Krom Had Her Son, Arthur Ellsworth, Arrested—This Morning the Son Waived Examination and Was Held for Action of Grand Jury—Cushman Act Arrested.

Arthur Ellsworth, 27, of Hurley avenue when arraigned before Special City Judge Walter H. Gill in police court this morning on a charge of grand larceny in the second degree, waived examination and was held to await the action of the grand jury. Bail will be fixed in county court.

Ellsworth was arrested Thursday on a warrant sworn out by his mother, Mrs. Ella Krom, who is now stopping on Cedar street. She claimed that she had $250 in one of the local banks and recently drew the money out. She accused her son of taking the money from her. The son, however, claimed his mother gave him the money. This morning he entered a plea of not guilty to the charge and waived examination.

Catherine Cusher, 18, of 165 Delaware avenue, was arrested Thursday on a charge of petit larceny, and was held for a hearing in police court on Saturday. She is accused of stealing a set of dollies from the residence of Mrs. Samuel Feldman. The dollies were valued at $10.

Charge Quarryville Man's Truck Struck Miss Helen Nicholson

William T. Mehrmann, Sr., Charged With Manslaughter and Held for Grand Jury in $3,000 Bail—Statements Obtained from Mehrmann and Companion, G. A. Spielmann.

William T. Mehrmann, Sr., 50 years old of Quarryville, was placed under arrest Thursday afternoon by State Troopers Arthur A. Reilly and Edward J. Smith, charged with being the operator of the truck which struck Miss Helen Nicholson last Monday evening as she was walking along the highway near the Neighborhood road.

For three days State Troopers and men from the sheriff's office have been working on the solution of the matter in an effort to ascertain who the hit and run driver was. During that time over 200 investigations have been made in Ulster and Greene county in an effort to find a green Ford truck which showed evidence as well as men from the road, and which the owner was unable to properly explain. Mehrmann at first made no statement as to whether he was the man wanted or not but when the Troopers found the radiator and cross bar of the truck denied they deemed it sufficient evidence to bring Mehrmann before District Attorney Cleon B. Murray on a subpoena and there Mr. Mehrmann was questioned by Mr. Murray. State Troopers Reilly and Smith, Sergeant Cunningham and Sergeant Hopkins, as well as men from the sheriff's office and it was then that he admitted that he had driven the truck which struck Miss Nicholson. He claimed that after striking her that he proceeded on a short distance and stopped his car and that he then drove on home. With him at the time was Gustave Adolph Spielmann of Saugerties.

A statement was also secured from Spielmann which substantiated that of Mehrmann.

Charged With Manslaughter.

Following the confession that he had operated the Ford truck Mehrmann was placed under arrest on a charge of manslaughter, second degree, and later arraigned before Justice of the Peace Walter Webber of the town of Ulster where he was held in $3,000 bail for the grand jury. The bail was approved by County Judge Frederick G. Traver and provided by Mehrmann.

Monday evening about 6:10 o'clock Miss Helen Nicholson, proprietor of Ivy Inn on the Saugerties road, was walking toward Saugerties near the Bayer gas station. She was on her right side of the road. At that time Fred Wilkesmann of Port Ewen was coming south on the right side of the road. As he approached the scene of the accident he observed a car coming north with its lights lighted. It was a green Ford car, a light delivery truck. Wilkesmann also observed Miss Nicholson on the highway and saw that an accident could not be avoided. He was but a short distance away when the woman was struck and tossed into the air. The Ford continued on but Wilkesmann paying but little attention to the Ford went to the assistance of the injured woman. However she apparently was instantly killed. With others he picked her up and removed her to the Bayer gas station from where she was later taken to the hospital by the Conner ambulance. She was dead on admission to the hospital.

In the brief time that he had observed the Ford, Mr. Wilkesmann said it was a light delivery Ford car painted green and with two persons in it. However he had not time to secure the license number other than to observe that it was a New York plate.

On that one simple clue the State Troopers and sheriff's men went to work Tuesday morning to check the green Ford cars in Ulster and Greene county. A list was made of cars answering that description which were owned north of Kingston to the Greene county line, and also a check was made in Greene county. Troopers under Sergeant Cunningham worked ceaselessly since that time to "check up" on the cars. They were checked before Troopers Reilly and Smith finally went to the Mehrmann place to check that car.

Statement Secured.

A denied radiator and a dented cross bar in front gave evidence of a recent accident. The owner was properly explained to the Troopers. Mehrmann was brought before District Attorney Cleon B. Murray Thursday afternoon and examined. He finally told his story to Mr. Murray and admitted that he had been in an accident last Monday on the Saugerties road and had driven on home. A statement was taken from him and also from his companion, Gustave Adolph Spielmann. They had been to Kingston at Ruzza's place on Broadway and were on their way home when the accident happened.

The woman was struck and the car continued on for a distance and then stopped. Mehrmann said they looked back but his companion said everything was all right and they went on. However they left the main highway at the first turn at Minto's and went over through Lake Katrine. Mr. Marion and to the four corners, and then up to Quarryville.

Spielmann was questioned and he too made a statement as to the affairs of Monday evening. He was not held.

Following the statements Mehrmann was then arraigned on the manslaughter charge.

CWA To Drop 400,000 Workers In Rural Areas Friday, Feb. 23

Administrator Hopkins Says Demobilization Order Affects Every State Equally Insofar As It Has Gone Out—Civil Works Will Be Maintained at Present Strength In All Industrial Cities—The New Regulations.

Washington, Feb. 15 (AP).—The Civil Works Administration will drop 400,000 workers in rural areas throughout the country on Friday, February 23.

Announcing new regulations for the next ten weeks, Harry L. Hopkins, administrator, said that for the present hours of labor would remain at 24 a week in cities and 15 in rural areas.

The demobilization, which started last night with the dropping of between 150,000 and 200,000 workers on federal projects, will be carried on at the rate of approximately 10 per cent a week through March. After that it is scheduled to be accelerated until the entire force of 4,000,000 men and women will have been demobilized by May 1.

The demobilization order affects every state equally insofar as it has gone out, Hopkins said.

The new regulations as Hopkins outlined them:

1.—All persons living in households where another member is working, whether on public or private employment, will be dropped first.

2.—All persons who have other resources.

Civil works will be maintained at present strength in all industrial cities.

The wage scale under the new arrangement will be the prevailing scale for the type of labor done in the local community with a minimum of 30 cents per hour for common labor.

One of the projects on which the administration will concentrate during the remaining ten weeks is construction of fireproof consolidated rural schools in states which have a consolidated school system. Hopkins said that other similar major projects which can be completed by May 1 are under consideration.

When the civil works ends, Hopkins said, all needy persons will be given emergency relief.

Dates for Firemen's Show Are Feb. 27, 28

The dates for the production of the musical comedy, "The World's All Right", at Kingston High School Auditorium, under the auspices of Lapid Hose Company, have been changed from those first announced to February 27 and 28.

One of the special features of the show will be a scene called "Memories", featuring Miss Alice Trowbridge as the soprano soloist. Miss Trowbridge will open the number with a group of famous love songs while the Misses Dorothy Moore, Margaret Clayton, Catherine Meagher and Rita Flynn, costumed as colonial men and women, do a minuet. One of the dancing choruses appear in long ruffled dresses and parasols in a contrasting shade, and do a delightful number called "Old Fashioned Garden". Another chorus enters immediately after, offering "Wait Till the Cows Come Home", while the old fashioned girls go through a picturesque routine with their parasols. The scene closes with "The Song of the Vagabonds", a stirring number sung by the male chorus, assisted by the girls.

There will be sixteen girls in the dancing choruses in addition to the above mentioned numbers. They also dance to "Whistle and Blow Your Blues Away", "You're in Style When You're Wearing a Smile", "Dark Town Strutters Ball" and "Stars and Stripes Revue". In special costumes for each number, they add color to the show. The girls who will appear in these numbers are the Misses Dorothy Grover, Evelyn DuBois, Joag Cunningham, Dorothy Winchell, Eliza McLean, Betty Tenny, Phyllis Brodhead, Nina Neebe, Anna Kneisch, Louise Kramer, Jane Hall, Mildred Blyson Evelyn Kleine, Jean Ward, May Evelyn.

At Linz it was announced that the superintendent of schools in upper Austria had ordered the schools opened tomorrow saying, however, that pupils should have every opportunity to attend funerals whenever necessary.

About 2,000 prisoners are held by authorities in Vienna. Many of them are concentrated in the former automobile body factory and in the former imperial military barracks.

Troopers and sheriff for the careful check-up which has been made. To trace down a Ford car in Ulster county or in any other county in fact is a difficult and tedious task. Since Monday evening the officials have worked ceaselessly on the job. Lists were made out of Ford truck owners at the Motor Vehicle Bureau office here and these lists were then taken out and the cars were carefully checked for evidence of recent use. It was a big task and had to be done by Troopers Reilly and Smith to locate the wanted car.

High School Students May Get New Rating

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 15 (AP).—Many New York state high school students who failed to pass the plane geometry recent examination last month may get receive a successful rating.

The board of regents, acting on protests that the examination was too long and too difficult, has decided to revise the passing grade on the plane geometry examination in recent years. The customary passing grade is 65.

Wallkill Man Files Petition in Bankruptcy

New York, Feb. 15 (Special to The Freeman).—Leri Jansen, engaged in the trucking business at Wallkill, filed a voluntary petition and schedules in bankruptcy in United States District Court here today.

Total liabilities are listed as being $16,246, of which $3,761 is in unsecured claims, $7,666 in secured claims and $2,819 in accommodation paper. Assets, consisting chiefly of vehicles, amount to $869.

Holders of secured claims are Robert S. and Mary J. Cruser whose address is given as in care of John Lippert of Chester, N. Y., $2,000, and L. C. Crookston, Wallkill, holder of a chattel mortgage for $1,669.

Wallkill holders of unsecured claims are H. W. Dunn, $225, J. M. Chase, $150, L. C. Crookston, $290, Ella M. Scott, $285, John B. and Caroline Terwilliger, $750, Ottilie F. Laegen, $482 and $97, and Terwilliger & Sloan, $125. Others are F. E. Ruger, Gardiner, $155, Mary J. Cruser, Chester, $750.

The accommodation paper consists of five promissory notes, made by Charles H. Jansen and endorsed by the bankrupt. Holders are Wallkill National Bank, $2,000, $650 and $300, First National Bank, Wallkill, $450 and Warren V. Dero, Wallkill, $105.

Robert D. Duke of Walden is the attorney for the petitioner.

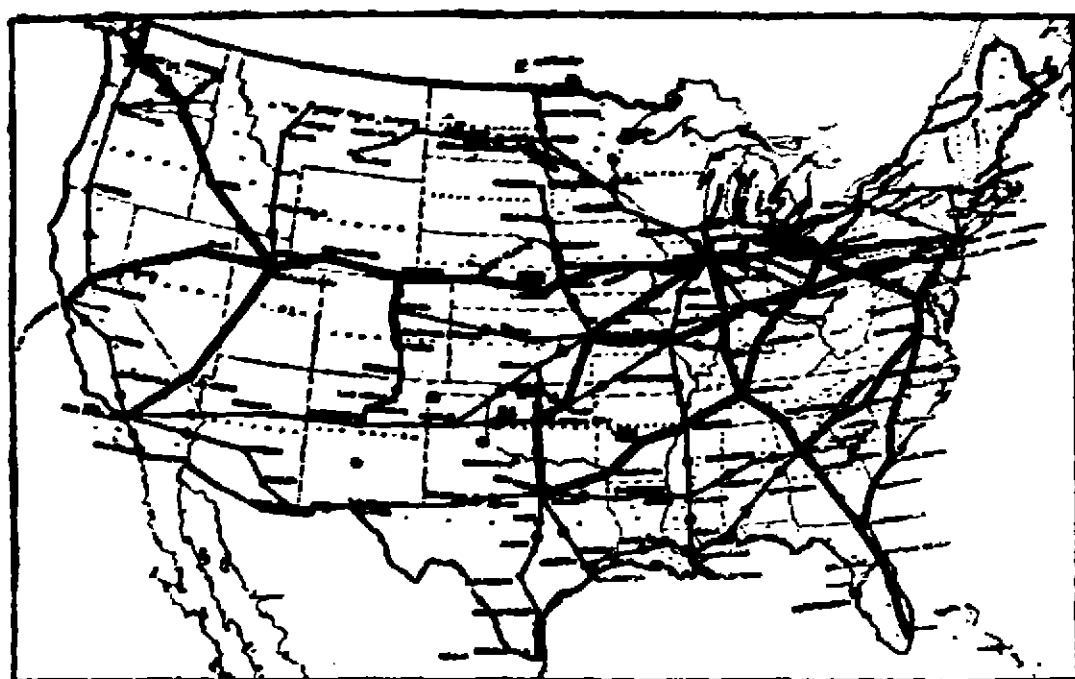

TURKISH NOMADS LEARN ABC'S UNDER TEXTS

Ulukishia, Turkey (AP)—A paternal Turkish government is providing ambulatory schools to follow the nomadic tents of the wild tribes of the Taurus mountains.

The schools themselves are tents which are folded up and carried from pasture land to pasture land in the wake of the wandering tribes.

The teachers are recruited from among the few educated tribesmen. Sixteen of these text-schools are now teaching ABC's and multiplication tables to nomadic infants and adults.

Uncle Sam Gives The Air Corps A Big Assignment

It's an army game now—flying the airmail in the United States. Commercial companies have been carrying the routes shown on this map. After their contracts had been cancelled, Postmaster General Farley announced that, for the time being at least, not all the routes would be down. The heavy lines indicate the routes first chosen for the army pilots. Service over additional routes, the post office department said, would be restored soon.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Thrill

Baltimore—The elevator in the new Baltimore postoffice and court house was a great novelty to E. B. Eckenrode, 55-year-old Carroll county farmer, on his first trip to the city in 50 years to answer to a liquor law violation charge.

"I thought you were taking me to court," he said as the elevator door opened on the main floor. "You're putting me back in a cell."

"Whoa," he shouted as the elevator whizzed upward, "she sure does climb."

Pernormance

Montreal—A big husky fellow walked into a public library and asked for a number of books on cooking.

"Day after day he returned," said Miss A. MacDougall, librarian, "until he had completely exhausted everything we had in the way of cookery books. Then quite abruptly, he ceased. A month later he appeared and proudly informed us he had secured a position as cook in a well-known hotel."

Pity Poor Philosopher

Philadelphia—Dr. Henry S. Butz is worried about the stuff stolen from his automobile, but he is more worried about the thief. Dr. Butz reported to police that the man seen taking a container of cyclopropane may be blown to bits. The gas is explosive, but the thief may not be able to dispose of it, said the doctor, and, he added, it is both highly explosive and poisonous.

Love Never Dies

Franklin, Pa.—Divorced 20 years ago, Patrick J. Dalley and Anna Morris, both of Titusville, are remarried.

The ceremony was performed yesterday a few minutes after Dalley obtained a divorce from his third wife. Mrs. Dalley re-married in 1914 after her divorce from Dalley. Her second husband died in 1918. Dalley also was divorced from his second wife.

Lollipop

Pittsburgh—Eight-year-old Regis Hughes spent his penny for a lollipop and hurried toward home, eating the sweet.

On the way he tripped and fell and the lollipop jammed down his throat. His frantic gesticulations attracted passersby who took him to a physician's office where he was pronounced dead of strangulation.

A Gentleman

Chicago—Into divorce court walked Walter A. Schwartz, weight 175 pounds.

There he said his 100 pound wife, Mildred, slapped and hit him, pushed him against a telephone and threw him over the dining room table.

"But," he added, "I maintained my gentlemanly dignity."

For which the judge complimented him and then gave him a divorce.

Reports Submitted at Federation Meeting

Large Attendance at Meeting of Executive Committee of Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs Held Thursday at City Library.

There was a well attended meeting of the executive committee of the Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs held Thursday afternoon at the City Library. Mrs. Harry B. Walker, the president, presiding.

Following the reports of the secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Beeres and Mrs. Fraser, respectively, the committee members all expressed themselves as having been more than pleased with the speaker at the recent Federation Luncheon—Mrs. McMullen—and with all of the arrangements for the luncheon. They also reported much favorable comment from the guests of the afternoon.

Although Dr. Day, chairman of the Public Health Committee, was not present, Miss Healy reported for her that something over $6,100 had been received from the recent Christmas Seal sale, but that over 2,500 letters had not yet been acknowledged.

Mrs. Fred P. Luther, chairman of the Motion Picture Committee, sent in her excellent report which was read by Mrs. Graham and was as follows:

"Every ticket purchased at the box office is a ballot cast for good films—or mediocre," Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, told a nationwide radio audience on January 14 in a broadcast through station WJZ.

In an address in which he prophesied that films more than ever before for 1934 Mr. Hays gave the public entire credit for the improved standards of production. "Steady patronage of better films," he declared, was responsible. Every day you people of the United States take part in a great national election. Mr. Hays said "while we in the business may nominate the picture, it is you who elect them. You the great American audience are responsible for the pictures which succeed. The ultimate fate of any film or of any performer is in your hands."

Last year we had a lot of splendid pictures finely written, magnificently produced. But for this year 1934, it is prophesied that we will see the greatest pictures we have ever seen—pictures with better stories, improved treatment and much wider range. In the first place, we are to have some great historical and dramatic spectacles. These would be impossible except for your ever rising standard of appreciation for pictures of the better kind.

Remember this—frequently the difference between the sordid and the tragic, between the harmful and the educational, between the vulgar and the amusing, the false and the fine, hangs upon the thin strands of individual human judgment. The newly reorganized Eastern Preview Committee is not only reviewing pictures diligently but has organized an institute for study. Some of the questions which engaged a group of 40 members which gathered at Town Hall, New York city, on January 3 were:

What are the specific values to be looked for in motion pictures?

What constitutes a balanced judgment of a film?

What is impersonal and what a prejudiced approach?

How must consideration be given to varying tastes?

What factors must be weighed to determine the worth of films?

Mrs. Jaquette Earick pointed out a picture which is in no way objectionable but not entertaining to you may often prove excellent entertainment for some one else.

Miss Lucy J. Healy, chairman of the Individual Membership Committee, presented the following names for membership, all being unanimously elected to such membership:

Mrs. H. Thomas Decker, Mrs. Morris B. Downer, Mrs. Everett Schull and Mrs. A. Loren Le Ferre.

Mrs. C. N. Reed, chairman of the Good Government Committee, read from the "chip sheets" sent from Albany by the Women's Legislative Forum, many pieces of legislation that have been presented within the past two months, with running comment by Mrs. Green.

An interesting interest on the part of the Federation women regarding the proceedings of the Common Council was noted with their enthusiasm due to the fact that the city clerk and even the president of the Common Council spoke in so low a voice as to make it quite impossible to hear much of the proceedings of the Council, which it is every taxpayer's privilege and right to hear. The acoustics of the Common Council chamber were not blamed.

The Twentieth Century Club reported progress in their plans for entertaining the general Federation at the March open meeting, the exact date and place to be announced later. Tentative plans were discussed for the coming Third District meeting to be held in Kingston on April 27, with luncheon to be served by the Henrietta Wynkoop Guild of the First Reformed Church in the Chapel of the Church, the meeting with addresses to be held in the Church proper.

The Federation executives instructed the secretary to write a letter to the proper authorities at Albany stating that the Federation favored continuing legislation looking toward the doing away with billboards on our state highways.

Before bringing the meeting to a close, Mrs. Walker thanked all members of the executive committee who had so efficiently assisted in any way to make the recent luncheon the success it was.

Transvaal Fights Locusts

Pretoria (AP)—Department of agriculture officials armed with the latest locust-fighting apparatus have been sent to northern Transvaal, where swarms of insects have devastated large areas. Birds which feed on locusts are reported so full they can't fly.

Refusal of a 60-year-old resident of San Bernardino, Cal., to pay one cent in sales tax on a 25-cent meal led to his arrest on a charge of defrauding a luncheon.

Boyer Gonzales, Sr., Woodstock Artist, Dies

Second Marine Painter, Originally From Texas, Dies in Galveston, at 57—Was Favorite of Winslow Homer.

Galveston, Texas, Feb. 15 (AP)—Boyer Gonzales, Texas artist, who was noted for his marine paintings, died at his home here last night. He was 57 years old.

Mr. Gonzales maintained a summer studio at Woodstock, N. Y., and was a frequent contributor to New York galleries. He was a member of the New York Water Color Club, the Seaside Club, and the National Art Club. He had studied under William J. Whitehead in New York, Walter Landi in Boston, and George Harrison at Woodstock. He had also studied in Holland, Paris, and Florence, and had painted with the late Winslow Homer. He was also a member of the Mississippi Art Association and Texas Federation Art Association.

Among the awards he received for his work was the Arthur B. Davis Gold Medal in Dallas in 1921; gold medal.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head and ear noises or are growing hard of hearing go to McBride's or your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmit (double strength), add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Closed nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has catarrhal deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Adv.

Dallas, in 1924, and honorable mention from the Southern States Art League in 1926. His paintings are in the Galveston Art League, municipal schools in Galveston, Delgado Museum in New Orleans, and Witte Museum, San Antonio. Surviving Mr. Gonzales are his wife and one son, Boyer, Jr.

City Again Gripped By Zero Weather

Old Man Winter's chill breath Thursday night again sent the mercury dropping down in thermometer, and during the night zero weather prevailed again in Kingston with thermometers registering zero at 7 o'clock this morning. The weather seemed even colder this morning for there was a sharp blustery wind blowing throughout the morning hours that made pedestrians draw their outer wraps closer around them.

It was so cold this morning that but little outdoor work was done in the city.

COUNTY SINGERS TO MEET MRS. HEMSTREET

On Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, those people in Ulster county who love to sing and are interested in the present project sponsored by the Home Bureau of creating singing groups throughout the county which will be united into one big chorus, are asked to meet Mrs. Lillian Miller Hemstreet, at the Home Bureau office in the basement of the Ulster County Savings Institution, next to the First Reformed Church on Wall street. Mrs. Hemstreet will explain the working out of such an interesting plan in the various communities under their own leaders, later to come together as one large chorus for the giving of a fine concert.

Parent-Teacher Associations

Founder's Day at No. 7.

A pleasant time was enjoyed by all who attended the monthly meeting of the P. T. A. of School No. 7, held at the school Tuesday evening, February 12, in honor of the 37th birthday of the organization. Before the meeting was called to order all grade rooms were visited by those present to see exhibits of the children's work on display in the different rooms.

The meeting opened with a musical program presented by the children of the school and announced by Mrs. Louis Kiegl. Following is the program: Cornet duet, "Let Me meet of the different P. T. A. Call You Sweetheart," Robert Craft, groups it was felt that the Parent-William Ford; cornet solo, "My Teacher Association had proven to be a very worthwhile organization, and last night the Night- The former president in attendance (ingale Woke Me," Boys' Glee Club, were: Mrs. Robin Steele, Mrs. accompanist, Miss Feldman; "Flow James Scott, Mrs. Gerard Betz, Mrs. Gently Sweet Alton," piano and Brininger, Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. violin, Barbara and Beth Matthews; Ford. Candles were lighted in honor of the presidents who were not present. The program was given by the Glee Club, accompanist, Miss Feldman, in attendance by Miss DeWitt, Miss man. All the numbers were very follette and Miss Whelan, of the capacity played and sang by the faculty.

The history of the P. T. A. No. 7 was then read by the president, Mrs. J. Craig, and the candle-lighting ceremony was performed. In the name of each former president was read in connection with the history, that president if in attendance, lighted a candle and told something of the work carried on by the P. T. A. while she was in office. After hearing the accomplish-communication concerning the state clerk-

aid and child labor bills was read and it was voted upon to have the secretary write a letter to the legislative members at Albany asking them to try to secure the amount of state aid as it has been in the past. Attendance banners were won by Miss Follette's room downstairs and Miss Gumaer's room upstairs. After the serving of refreshments an announcement was made by Mr. Finerty that the new lunch room would be open for inspection at the close of the meeting. The meeting was then adjourned.

Mussolini Takes To Skiing As Example To His People In Training For Next War

By ANDREA MERRING
Rome (AP)—Il Duce, on skis, is leading his people to the snow-clad mountains to see them an example in training for the next war—which he says will be fought among the mountains.

The 50-year-old premier, who is already an expert equestrian, a skilled fencer and a breath-taking speedster-motorist, has taken to skiing as his latest sport.

Drives To Ski Field.
Each week-end finds him in the Apennines, near Rieti, a little more than 50 miles from Rome. He contributed from his own purse to the new motor road that leads to the skiing field of Terminillo.

Winter sport enthusiasts there see a powerful low car drive up each week to Roscoe, the terminus of the road. The driver climbs out, while those about him salute in Roman fashion.

He wears golf stockings, knickers, a rough shirt, a sleeveless sweater drawn tight with a belt, and a black beret. From the back of the car he draws out a pair of skis. He ties them on himself, and strides away with determined paces, body forward but head up, to the long glides of Terminillo, 5,000 feet above sea level.

Recalls World War.
And thus, by personal example, Mussolini hopes to get his people away from week-ends from the heavy atmosphere of the plains to the invigorating air of the mountains. He wants to get them used to the cold, the snow, skis and snow-shoes.

Every inducement is offered them to reach the mountains. Special trains are run to the mountain stations and a ticket to Celano and return, a total of five hours and a half of travel, costs only $1.40.

Mussolini remembers only too well that the last war was fought among the mountains between Austria and Italy. He himself was a corporal on the rugged slopes of the Carnian Alps.

He feels sure that the next war,

Careful! Don't Slip!

BENITO MUSSOLINI

Benito Mussolini slides down a mountain slope in the Apennines. He is trying to popularize skiing because he believes skill on the Norwegian snow shoes will help Italy defend her mountainous frontiers.

If it comes, will be waged also among the peaks. Italy's four frontiers, France, Switzerland, Austria and Yugoslavia, are all mountainous. So if and when that trial comes, he wants his people to be prepared.

Lard Pays Brazilian State Debt.
Porto Alegre, Brazil (AP)—Lard exports to Europe last year by the Rio Grande do Sul state consultative commission enabled the state to reduce its debt $6,000,000 and balance its budget. With the lard profits the commission bought bonds outstanding in the United States.

Sweden Cuts Naval Costs.
Stockholm (AP)—Swedish naval estimates are being reduced about 20 per cent to nearly $1,000,000. The economies include training seamen on shore for most of the year, decommissioning most of the ships and employing women as cooks and waitresses.

Howe About:

Different Characters
A Woman's "Utopia"
Natural Law

By ED HOWE

THE last empress of Russia was a good woman; never a breath of scandal against her. She was devoted to her children, to her church, and actually loved her husband. Every day of her life she did charity work, or talked about it. She believed in sending missionaries to convert the heathen. She loved art, and lived in an emotional and sentimental atmosphere all her life, to the entire neglect of practical common sense and education; she talked incessantly of justice for her subjects, and actually treated them so badly that finally they beat her to death, together with her husband and children.

Katherine, also of Russia, was not a beautiful character; in fact, a good deal of a tom boy, but no one ever charged her with being a sentimental fool. She was so much devoted to common sense that she invited Voltaire, master of it, to her court; she did against Frederick the Great in an attempt to buy him, that he might give her subjects the benefit of his wisdom.

No fortune tellers or mystics were admitted to her circle of friends or advisers; had she invited a Rasputin to her court by the back stairway, she would have slapped his mouth had he talked the nonsense Rasputin talked to the last empress of Russia.

I don't know there is any moral to this, but it is a curious incident in history I often think about.

"A woman's idea of Utopia," a wife writes, "is to have her husband far smarter than she is in the necessary activities of life. Such a husband earns more money than she could, and spends and invests it with better sense. He makes it possible for her to be with interesting and important people. He flatters her constantly, and considers it definitely his business to make her life a success. She has time to keep herself decorative." . . . This will flatter the men a little, and the poor devils get so little of it I have gone to the trouble of reprinting it.

From the beginning of the human race every man of reasonable intelligence has finally admitted that natural law is the supreme power, and cannot be changed. What we call the Capitalistic System (and which so many say is tottering) is natural law. Every race of men has practiced it, hated it; millions have said there is no death, but every one has defeated his own argument by dying. . . . Get food, clothing, shelter; extract from life such comfort as is in it. That is the law of Nature and of the Capitalistic System. Living in idleness off the neighbors is the doctrine of a rebel thrown out of God's kingdom.

At one time Silerius was in effect dictator of old Rome. Silerius nowhere says this in his writing, but the introduction to the memoirs says Silerius was head of the army, and close adviser and friend of the emperor, a weaker man. In that ancient time Silerius was in the position of the modern Mussolini in Italy, or Hitler in Germany, although not an equally great brawler.

Silerius confesses in his memoirs that were he free to completely order the affairs of the people, he could not think of a plan better than the plan they had worked out for themselves. He often thought, he said, of an ideal world, but the old human nature always intruded, and he could agree on no plan that would probably work better.

Silerius was a vigorous, adventurous man with women, and thought much of better relations between the sexes, but concluded at last that a new and better way, offering less quarrelling and suffering, could not be devised. "The charges of the men and women against each other are true," he said, "but I can think of no remedy." In his time the political parties were distinguished by colors; the radicals were called blues, the conservatives greens, etc. He sided with neither; charges of both were true, he decided, as were the charges of the poor against the rich, the charges of the rich against the poor, but he did not bankrupt his government trying relief plans, as he could think out no remedy promising success.

"Give me one more day, month or year," a man usually says to God in his prayer, "and I will become great. I feel I have it in me, if given time to get it out. I know what the trouble is with the world, but somehow I have not yet convincingly framed and pointed it out. I love the higher life, but somehow the lower has swamped me. Give me until tomorrow again, and I again promise to do better."

The sun has always come up regularly every morning in my lifetime. I am more interested in working in the light it affords, and in properly resting in the dark hours when it is hidden, than in wrangling with my neighbors as to the origin of the sun.

I often hear women wondering as to how they may best entertain a man guest. I'll tell them: Buy a great big thick steak, from a choice part of the beef, and give him all the tenderloin.

County Orchestra Selects Officers

A meeting was held in the rooms of the Ulster County Home Bureau on Wall street under the Ulster County Savings Institution, Wednesday evening, that promises to be full of interest and promise for the musical future of Ulster county.

Under Mrs. Howard A. Lewis, chairman of the Ulster County Home Bureau, a canvas had been made of the people in Ulster county who play orchestral instruments and who would like to have an active part in a good orchestra. A short time ago, a number of those who were present last evening met and heard Mrs. Florence W. Cabberry, violinist, tell of the creating of such an orchestra as can be formed in Ulster county.

Out of the group of active musicians present last evening, the following officers were elected: President, Frank W. Forde, cellist of Lake Katrine; secretary, Madison S. Forde, violinist of Lake Katrine; treasurer, Miss Nilly Beatty of Stone Ridge.

Mrs. Cabberry will direct the orchestra which will begin by studying some simple but good music that all will enjoy playing and an audience will enjoy hearing, for this group has started out with the definite idea of a concert in the not too distant future.

There will be a small charge for joining the orchestra, which will cover all immediate expenses necessary to carrying on such a project.

The rehearsals of the orchestra will be in the large room at the Home Bureau office, and all those who wish to come in and join the orchestra are asked to again take note of the place of meeting. The Home Bureau office is in the basement of the Ulster County Savings Institution, just north of the First Reformed Church on Wall street.

At present the musicians are without funds and are hoping that they may find some good "angel" in Kingston or the nearby community who will help them out with the loan of a piano, preferably an upright.

Next Meeting
The next meeting of the Ulster County Orchestra will be on Wednesday evening, February 21, at 7:45 o'clock. All who wish to join are asked to bring their instruments with them.

Washington Daybook

HERBERT PLUMMER
WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Rep. Plummer of the major political parties by the Washington Post, in the year of 1934, the year of the party, apparently, is a man who might be termed a "man of the future."

At present, Plummer is a committee member from various orders of both Democrats and Republicans as to the possible trend in the future with the new Congress.

Washington politicians, however, have made mental notes of recent developments in his direction and will watch with the greatest care all moves Plummer makes.

They have some understanding of the charges awarded to independent Republicans.

They have noted that the chairman of the Democratic National Committee has bestowed his blessing upon one of the foremost Republican Congressmen, Hiram Johnson of California, for reelection to the Senate.

They have heard Ogden L. Mills, President Hoover's secretary of the treasury, call for an adjustment of Republican policy to meet changes in the world and have heard Old Guard Republicans raise the cry of heresy.

Looking Ahead
THESE and other moves have set the politicians to thinking and wondering what the future holds.

Senator Norris of Nebraska, veteran Republican progressive, who has realized much for which he has long fought under the Roosevelt administration, Washington fact-finding charges in the setup of political parties in the future.

Perhaps the opportunity for a new alignment of the Democratic and Republican independent factions is more favorable now than at any time before. Mr. Roosevelt recognized it when he launched his election campaign in his acceptance speech at Chicago.

He stated then that his quarrel was not with the Republican party but with "Republican leadership."

As McNary Sees It
ON the other hand, there is the attitude of such Republican leaders as McNary of Oregon, Senator boss of the Senate.

"All Republicans look alike to me," he stated on the eve of the canvassing of Congress, and there has been no indication since that he has changed his views.

Many believe if peace is to be restored among Republicans and the independent wing of the party, McNary is perhaps among those best qualified to do it.

The reluctance of Democratic leaders in Washington is understandable, since for many of them at least, a serious attempt to amalgamate permanently the Republican "left-wingers" might involve loss or impairment of their own party positions at home.

Dr. Thayer to Speak
At Court of Honor

The Boy Scout Court of Honor for the Northern Section of Ulster county will take place this evening in the Kingston High School beginning promptly at 7:45 o'clock.

Dr. Walter N. Thayer, Jr., chairman of the Department of Correction of the state of New York, will be the speaker following the actual court session.

Dr. Thayer's wide experience in dealing with the prisons and corrective institutions of the state and his study of crime prevention give him a wide experience and his address tonight to the adults as well as Scouts will be most valuable and interesting.

The program for tonight includes the sitting of the Court of Honor and the awarding of many ranks and badges of merit, music by the High School Orchestra, the address by Dr. Thayer, and several reels of talkies given through the courtesy of General Motors Corporation.

The entire evening's program is open to the public and friends of Scouting.

STONE RIDGE
Stone Ridge, Feb. 16.—The Kingston Youth Council presented a delightful evening of music and devotion at the Reformed Church on Sunday night, February 11, under the leadership of Burt Van Deusen they came seventeen strong. The orchestra, consisting of 7 violins and piano, rendered "Angels Serenade" and "Follies of March." A trio sang two hymns, "Beautiful Garden of Prayer" and "Are Ye Able?" The soloist, Miss Margaret Smith, ably rendered, "You Ask Me How I Gave My Heart to Christ." Scripture was read by Donald Boyce and Wallace Builey made the invocation. The speakers of the evening were Donald McCausland, who chose as his subject, "Immortality"; Henry P. Eighmer, who spoke on "Salvation," and Henry Van Der Zee, who chose as his theme, "Finding Courage for Hard Days." During the offering Clifford Van Valkenburgh rendered a violin solo. The people of Stone Ridge expressed much satisfaction in having the Youth Council with them.

There was a good attendance at the cafeteria supper sponsored by the Christian Endeavor Society of the Reformed Church on Wednesday night. Prices were reasonable and the committee is to be commended on the service and quality of the menu. Much thanks is expressed by the C. E. members to all those who participated in any way to make the evening a success.

Services at the Reformed Church on Sunday—Sunday School at 9:30; morning worship at 10:30; the noon topic will be "Evidences of Our Faith." The C. E. will meet at 7 o'clock. Clarence Klaus will lead on the subject, "How to Master Temptation." A cordial and friendly welcome will be extended to all at any of these services.

On Tuesday evening of this week the Men's Community Club were the guests of the club at Hurley. The Stone Ridge club accepted the challenge of the Hurley men to a few games of dart baseball. Both teams representing Stone Ridge ran off with the honors of two games each to their credit. A very pleasant evening was spent, ending with refreshments.

Mrs. I. Graham, who with many other delegates of the county attended the State Grange meeting at Lake Placid last week, reports a very pleasant time. Though the temperature was very cold the hotels and guest homes did all possible to make those who attended very comfortable.

The Sherman family, who for the last few months have occupied the rooms in the former Haerer building, have again moved to High Falls.

A meeting of the Library trustees was held at the home of Mrs. M. Van Winkle on Wednesday night. Reports of 1933 were presented and in all a very prosperous year was indicated. An invitation is extended to all in surrounding communities to avail themselves of the library service.

Dinner at Accord.
The regular Saturday night modern and old fashioned dance will be held at the L. O. O. F. Hall, Accord. Dancing will start at 8:30. Pianos orchestra will furnish the music.

Former Kingston Man
Caught Two Bobcats

The Daytona Beach Sun Record, a newspaper published at Daytona Beach, had this to say in a recent issue regarding the exploit of H. E. King, a former resident of Kingston: "Two live wildcats are on display in the Daytona Beach hardware store on South Beach street, after being captured early today by H. E. King, New York visitor to this city and a well known figure in northern conservation circles, and Vic Sparkman."

The cats, one a full-grown male and the other a female, were trapped north of the Deland road. They will be offered to museums, and if no home is found they will be killed. Mr. King stated. State game officials have posted notices throughout the district urging that wildcats be killed as menaces to game animals.

Mr. King, a camera enthusiast, took motion pictures of the animals at the traps this morning.

Fortune Makes Hired "Man" Into a Woman

Jeane Crandall, 27, Young Texas Widow, Recently Was When Telegram Arrived at Tell "A-1 Hired Man" That "Mr" Inherits $50,000.

Springfield, Ont., Feb. 16 (AP)—The A-1 hired man on Simon Charlton's farm is a lady—and "was a $50,000 legacy that let the secret out.

She—yes, she; don't let the overalls fool you—is Jeane Crandall, 27-year-old Texas widow.

Disguised as a man, she got a job on the farm three weeks ago. They found her working in a parson's bin when a telegram addressed to J. B. Crandall arrived yesterday.

"Kindly make arrangements to be in Chicago February 20, when will of your late grandmother, Mme. Dickinson, will be filed for probate," it read. "Will name you beneficiary to $50,000."

The sturdy, medium-sized figure in blue denim started. Then came a sentence that surprised the country-side.

"I am a girl!"
She quit her job forthwith. Only the necessity of getting work had prompted her to disguise herself, she said. She plans to get the legacy in Chicago, and then take Mr. and Mrs. Charlton on a trip to Texas and Hawaii. Her father was a Hawaiian.

"No more farming for me," added the "A-1 hired man."

New Sun Spots Presage
Magnetic Troubles

Pasadena, Calif., Feb. 16 (AP)—The sun has broken out with four new spots, which is good news for auditors.

There is good evidence, say scientists, that more sun spots mean more ultra violet radiation. That, in turn, spells better health for the folk who loiter around letting Sol's rays impinge on naked epidermis.

The new spots indicate, Dr. Seth B. Nicholson, astronomer of the Carnegie Institution's Mount Wilson observatory, said today, that the minimum of a 10 1/2 year cycle has passed.

From now on Old Sol will be watched as closely as a rich child with a strange malady.

Scientists have learned that increasing sun spots also presage more frequent magnetic disturbances on the earth. With occasional interruption of telegraph and telephone transmission.

The Aurora Borealis, or northern lights, will become visible farther south. There is a tentative indication that possibly cooler weather may be expected the year round.

A few scientists claim that wireless reception will be poorer at times.

Kingston: "Fugitive Lovers."
Life in a cross country has turned out to be pretty much excitement and romance in this story with Robert Montgomery and Madge Evans together again after a movie separation of several pictures. The show goes to Mr. Montgomery almost completely, and his fans will never find him to better advantage than in this tale. Ted Healy and Nat Pendleton are also members of the cast. A different kind of plot plus a good cast is the reason why this show is worth seeing.

Orpheum: "My Weakness." Lillian Harvey from England dances and smiles her way through her first American talkie, a rather dreamlike affair that concerns a young man whose income is cut off by his uncle. Len Ayres, Charles Butterworth, Henry Travers and Harry Langdon featured in important assignments, as well as a host of pretty girls. There is a mixture of comedy and drama. Deeded by Charles Butterworth and Harry Langdon, some exceptional songs and dance routines and Miss Harvey and Mr. Ayres seem to be a romantic and enjoyable co-starring team.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Ida Lupino is Hollywood's amazing contradiction—a blue-eyed blonde of 17 who is dead-set against a screen career devoted to the portrayal of blue-eyed blondes of 17.

She looks like many another blue-eyed blonde, wind-blown and sweet and collegiate, until she begins to talk. And then those 350 years of theatrical Lupinos that are her family history seem to speak for her as she rolls her determination to be an actress of parts and not one of those moonlight-and-roses girls whose whole function in the cinema is to gaze worshipfully at handsome brawny heroes.

Ingenu? No! No! No!

"I'll not do it, I say!" she declares with emphasis. "I'm not going to stay here to be an ingenu. Oh, yes, that's how they've started me, of course—but if in four or five months I haven't been given a real character to play, I'm going back to England and work on the stage."

There is no little indignation in her voice as she warms up to her subject.

She is familiar, she says, with the methods of producers in turning upon young actresses roles that are sugar-and-honey-parts that will be "gee for you when we've built it up some," and parts that are only "preparations for better ones to come." She learned that in England, where she made pictures before coming to Hollywood.

Why, she's been reading scripts since she was 4 years old, and do they think she was born yesterday? She knows scripts—why, even Stanley Lupino, her father, often talks over his scripts with her.

Parts—Not Looks—Count

Miss Lupino recently played an aged splinter in a studio play, the leading role in one of those productions staged by the junior players. It was a characterization far removed from her first screen role in "The Search for Beauty."

"I can do parts like that splinter for the screen, I want to do them, to play real characters."

"I know people," she insists, positively. "I can study someone for 10 minutes and know all about him, what he thinks, what kind of person he is. It's a gift, or maybe a fault. But I have it."

"And I don't care what I look like on the screen. They can hollow my cheeks, gray my hair, dress me in rags and I'll be happy if I'm playing a real person. I don't care if I'm popular or not. That doesn't matter as long as I know I'm doing good work."

Which goes to show that a girl, even at the ripe old age of 17, with blue eyes and golden hair, can be as determined as the next one.

Egyptian Smugglers Use Three.

Cairo (P).—A system of smuggling narcotics from Palestine into Egypt in the inner tubes of bicycle tires was discovered by Cairo police when they arrested a group of traffickers in illegal drugs.

MENUS OF THE DAY

By MR. ALEXANDER GEORGE
A Beautiful Sunday

Try to plan your menu for Sunday so that there will be very little actual cooking on that day. With thought and previous cooking the day can be one of rest and enjoyment for the whole family. Many families have no main heavy meal on that day, but have a rather hearty breakfast and then in the late afternoon a substantial supper composed of foods previously prepared. Often friends are invited for this meal.

Meals For Sunday

The Hearty Breakfast

Orange Juice
Hot Cereal
Butter
Milk for the Children
The Substantial Supper
Cold Roast Ham
Baked Potatoes
Bread
Relish Salad in Gelatin
Fruit
Pear Sauce
Milk for the Children

Gran Muffins (8)
1 cup flour
1/2 cup bran
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup granulated sugar
Mix ingredients, beat 1 minute. Half fill greased muffin pans, bake 15 minutes in moderate oven. Serve warm or cold with butter.

Relish Salad in Gelatin
1 package lime-flavored gelatin
1/2 cup boiling water
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 tablespoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
4 chopped pickles
4 tablespoons chopped olives
1 cup chopped cabbage
1/2 cup chopped celery
Pour water over gelatin mixture. Add vinegar and sugar. Stir well and cool. Add remaining ingredients. Pour into mold, chill until stiff. Unmold on lettuce, top with dressing.

NOW EATS ANY KIND OF FOOD, AND NO CONSTIPATION

Mr. Durigan Finds Relief in Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Here is his enthusiastic letter:
"Am 70 years of age, and for 40 of these years there never was a week but what I had to take a pill or some kind of cathartic."
"I took everything, but gained only temporary relief. Until last spring my daughter, who is a nurse in a hospital, brought me some Kellogg's ALL-BRAN."

"At the end of the week, I knew I had something that was it, and I kept on taking it. I haven't taken a cathartic since. I can eat meat any time, as often as I like, or any other kind of food, and no constipation." Mr. L. M. Durigan, 8311 Buffalo Ave., Jacksonville, Florida.

Laboratory tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to excite the intestines, and vitamin B to help muscle tone. Also iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the intestinal wastes.

How much suffer than patent medicines. Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. With such need in serious cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Sold in the red-and-green packages. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Fashions by Eleanor Gunn

Generous, an Apt and Descriptive Term for Current Fashions

ANOTHER GLORY OF THE STARS

New York—One hears considerable adverse criticism of current style. They are voted too elaborate, and stored on several other points. But when one sees a woman dressed on such lines as our artist has caught for today's sketch, we must at least admit that graceful clothes are the vogue. And graceful is not a threadbare adjective either. It has not been descriptive of clothes of recent years. We may be willing to show some of the elegance, but let's try to retain the grace peculiar to evening clothes at the moment.

It may not appeal to you to wear cloth of gold, even so you may capture the charm of this coat (yes, it's a coat) by substituting satin or tulle. For that matter it's a perfectly good model for a dress, if you bring such a coat impractical.

Satins and tulle are both important again, and for any hour of the day or night. If you cannot resist the new sheers, wear them over either one or the other.

The report come in from all directions that women have acquired the habit of expecting a dress to have its own jacket, or coat.

Early collections to be found in most shops would indicate that the ensemble is as apt as it ever was not withstanding its age. It's the jacket costume that gets the big hand. It's a tremendous economy, not to mention convenience, to have a costume that changes its front by the removal of a jacket. Added to the light above, and the print above lists of dresses is the sheer-above variety. These work out in such combinations of money crepe for the skirt section, and embroidered or organdy or batiste for the top, net, chiffon, and a score of other things not forgetting marquisette. Some of the loveliest models of the year are topped by exquisitely embroidered batiste or organdy, in white, egg shell or a pastel, over either light or dark foundations. White over black is always a happy choice.

Capes and jackets are so happily molded that when one extolls the virtues of the dress with jacket one really means also to include a cape.

Gold metal in a rough surface construction makes the luxurious spring evening wrap at the right, with capelets taking the place of sleeves and the pleated blouse contributing the controlled width at the hemline.

A Lesson in English—Fashions

Copyright, 1934, by Fairchild.

Fashions as well as evening details have the special mission of conveying a feeling of dressiness in the new spring coats.

This coming season will see an increased interest in mannish fabrics and stylings. A good promotional idea is that of featuring the same type of coats for brother and sister, as illustrated in the figure at the left, wearing a brown tweed, belted at the back only to achieve a semi-tailored effect. The wide collar and revers at front are flattering details.

Contrasts in coats are smart this season. The companion figure wears a swaggar coat in checked woolen with faucet yoke. The same contrast is sponsored in the matching hat.

NEW PALTZ

New Paltz, Feb. 16—Miss Frances La Monte, a student at the Normal, spent the week-end at her home on Long Island.

Mrs. Virgil DeWitt has been entertaining her mother, Mrs. Rose, of Moriches, L. I. On Sunday Dr. and Mrs. DeWitt and Mrs. Rose were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey DeWitt at Allgerville.

Emily Palist has returned to school after visiting friends in Beacon.

Seventy people attended the card party of Highland Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, on Tuesday night, February 12. OUR DAILY PATTERNS

Comfortable and Serviceable
5122. This neat morning frock is just the right one for the larger woman. The surplice line of the closing, crosses a becoming V-neckline, and goes straight to a trimming tab that holds the pleats in the skirt front.

There is a choice in making the sleeve in wrist length with soft fullness above a hand cuff, or comfortably short, and with an upturned shaped cuff. The fullness on the waist front at crosswise slashes is becoming. The belt does not confine the waistline, but is arranged to hold the dress with ease. And there is a pocket one did not expect. Designed in 9 sizes: 36, 38, 40.

THE GREAT BULL MARKETS

The world loves a leader. When the first GREAT BULL Market was opened the wise crackers said: "It can't be done." They thought our prices were too low and that people wouldn't go out of their way to shop, even if they could save money. GREAT BULL'S success is the answer. Great Bull's business grows and grows, and G. B.'s customers save more and more. Great Bull by its modern business methods has taken the lead.

"What! 98c for Tooth-paste?" (That's What You'd Pay, Madam, If It Weren't for Advertising!)

NEARLY a dollar for a little tube of tooth-paste. $3.25 for a pair of chiffon hose. 50 cents for a gallon of gasoline. And a flat two thousand for a "popular priced" car.

How far could the old family budget stagger under that kind of load? What's more to the point, how many nice things could you afford to buy?

There's one big reason why you don't have to pay such outlandish prices for quality things these days. It's because you—and millions like you all over the country—do your buying through the advertising you read!

And it's because you—and thousands like you here in Kingston who read the Daily Freeman—can afford to be choosy and critical when you shop for values.

For Daily Freeman ads save you money! A merchant can mark this good merchandise at a lower price when his Daily Freeman ad will bring many, many dollar-wise shoppers to his store. Having all these buyers gives him a good return on just a tiny profit per item! And you pay no big "mark-up"

But price isn't everything. You get better quality in advertised goods. They have "acceptance"—they've been tested by thousands of shoppers as careful as yourself. And found worthwhile. They must be good or the merchant wouldn't spend his hard-earned money to advertise them in this newspaper where you can compare them with other offerings every day.

It will pay you many times over to read the ads in the Daily Freeman regularly.

How Advertising LOWERS The Price of What You Buy!

Take Tooth-paste, for instance. Good tooth-paste. It may cost Mr. Manufacturer, Mr. Jobber and Mr. Druggist 30 cents a tube to make and sell it—counting salaries and packaging and transportation, rent and other "overhead" and the interest due on the note at the bank. A fair profit all along the line . . . and then this tooth-paste could be sold for 45c—if everybody knew about it!

Sure . . .

. . . but who does know about it? Just a mere handful of people who have heard of it by "word of mouth." A few hundred maybe. Not enough to pay the manufacturer's rent and his NRA salaries. NOT ENOUGH TO LET HIM STAY IN BUSINESS.

And so . . .

. . . he can do one of two things. Raise the price to nearly a dollar (as in our picture above) while you brush your teeth with plain water. Or raise the price a bare nickel per tube and spend that nickel per tube on advertising—to tell his story to millions—do a volume business at a small profit—and bring you good tooth-paste at 50c or even less.

Repaid Pays

A FEW YEARS AGO 'CLAY' JOHNSON SOLD PLAYFELLOW TO LARRY SUGAR FOR $100,000

JOHNSON CLAIMED THE HORSE WAS A HAND-SUCKER AND THROUGH COURT ACTION TOOK BACK THE HORSE AND REPAYED THE MONEY.

LATER ON JOHNSON BOUGHT ONE OF SUGAR'S YEARLINGS FOR $200,000. IT WOULD REPAY HIM FOR THE LOST SALE - HE NAMED THAT COLT 'REPAID'.

JOHNSON DEDICATED THE COLT TO SUGAR AS A YEAR-OLD BUT... THE NEXT YEAR...

Starting Roster of St. Louis Cardinals

St. Louis, Feb. 16 (AP).—Anxious to improve the attack and defense of the first line, Manager Frankie Frisch will have eleven infielders included on hand when the Cardinals gather at Bradenton, Fla., March 5 to begin preparations for the 1934 National League season.

The Cardinals' roster, just released by Secretary Clarence Lloyd, shows an abundance of pitchers—16—but only three catchers and six outfielders.

Eleven names must be cut from the roster before March 15, so the infielders and pitchers will have ample cause for worry when Branch Rickey comes around looking for help from the club's minor league "farm."

All three catchers will be retained, and Frisch is expected to carry five outfielders, six infielders and eight or nine pitchers.

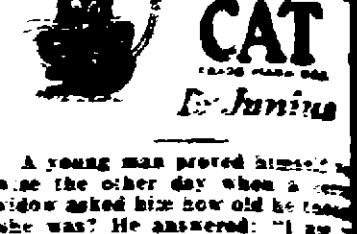

The roster: Pitchers—James O. (Tex) Carlisle, Jerome Herman (Dixie) Dean, Paul Dean, Edward Greer, Burleigh Grimes, Jesse Joseph Haines, William Hallahan, Clarence E. Helsa, Robert Klingner, James I. Mooney, Charles Flint Rhem, Glenn E. Spencer, William H. Walker, James Winford.

Catchers—Virgil Davis, William P. Delaney, Jr., and Miguel A. Gonzales, also listed as a coach.

Infielders—Bernhard Borgmann, Thomas Carey, James Collins, Clifford R. (Pat) Crawford, Edward Decker, Leo E. Durocher, Frank Francis Frisch, John Leonard (Pepper) Martin, William H. Myers, Lewis E. Riggs and Burgess Whitehead.

Outfielders—Joseph M. Medwick, Colonel Buster Miller, Eugene Moore, Jr., Ernest Ralph Orsatti, John H. Rothrock, Jr., and George A. Watkins.

OFFICE CAT

A young man proved himself a cat on the other day when a woman asked him how old he was. He answered: "I am as old as the cat in my office."

Excellent advice from a popular song: Take good care of yourself. Take care of your health. Take care of your money. Take care of your job. Take care of your reputation.

Cut out your foolishness. Eat less, work harder, save money. Pay your bills, be polite, get to bed earlier.

This is practical advice, the testimony of everyone who has lived long enough to know the penalty it must be paid for disobeying the accepted rules.

At a meeting of the trustees of the Stone Ridge Free Library, held at the home of the librarian, Mrs. Mathilda VanWinkle, the report for 1933 was read by the secretary, Dr. James Cantline. The library catalogues over 2,300 books, 600 of these are for juveniles. During the year 2,800 books were loaned to 151 readers. One hundred and fifteen dollars were spent for new books and magazines. New books will be added monthly during the current year. The library is free to all, and no restriction is put upon borrowers as to place of residence. A vote of thanks to the assistant librarians, Mrs. Charles Graham and Miss Evelyn Roosa was unanimously given by the trustees present. Voluntary contributions will be gratefully received. Repairs on the library building are needed and contemplated in the near future. It is also planned to have an entertainment or other social affair for the purpose of raising money to purchase new books. In addition to the $100 voted by the trustees to be used during the current year, the brick store, formerly owned by Mrs. Haerer, was purchased on Tuesday by Ervina Cornish.

An automobile was wrecked by fire at Durant, Okla., when the owner, lacking a key, tried to get a tube out of a tire locked in a carrier by burning away the casing.

PU-YI TAKES THRONE AS 'SON OF HEAVEN'

BURNT OFFERING AT Dawn Heads ACCESSION RITE

By JAMES A. MILAN.

Hsinking, Manchukuo. (AP).—Approximately $1,000,000, or 2,800,000 Manchukuoan yen, to be more exact, are being expended on the elaborate preparations here for the enthronement of Henry Pu-Yi as emperor of Manchukuo.

This is fixed to take place on March 1, second anniversary of the establishment of Manchukuo under the shield of the Japanese army.

On that date solemn ceremonies will be held to mark the accession of the former "boy emperor" of China, now a young man of 22, to a throne from which he will reign over the 34,000,000 inhabitants of his new realm, the "Great Manchukuo Empire."

To signalize his accession, Pu-Yi is expected to proclaim a general amnesty applying especially to those who have been political enemies of his regime. Also he will reduce taxes and create a peerage of five ranks.

Because of the bitter winter, work has been suspended on the buildings of the new capital of Manchuria rising on the outskirts of Hsinking, including the million-dollar palace for the new emperor.

The main indoor ceremonies therefore must be held in the drawing room of the present modest residence of the chief executive—Pu-Yi's present title—in old Changchun.

Make a Sacrifice.

But if the indoor ceremonies are a bit cramped, there will be plenty of space for the most picturesque rite of all, the new emperor's sacrifice to Heaven. This will take place at dawn on an "Altar of Heaven" copied from the magnificent marble structure in Peking where Pu-Yi's ancestors sacrificed for centuries.

The altar is being built on the frozen plain on which the new capital is rising. There is no time to erect an altar of marble, so the Manchukuoan authorities are transporting hundreds of tons of frozen earth to this place to make an eminence from which the emperor may do homage before the only master of "Son of Heaven" publicly recognizes, the Supreme Master of the Universe.

Since the first dynasties in China—which tradition places as far back as 3000 B. C.—the public sacrifice of comedy, "Silas Smidge", at the Clintondale Grange hall, Friday evening, March 2.

Miss Marguerite Smith and Miss Glennie Wager were in Highland Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Atwood and son, Warren, Jr., spent Wednesday afternoon in Ardonia.

Edmund Wager of Plattkill was a caller on his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Wager, Wednesday evening.

Fred Mance has been assisting in the general store of DuBois Grimm.

Going-to-the Sun Mountain. The name "Going-to-the-Sun" was given to the mountain by the Blackfoot Indians in honor of the legendary visit of Sour Spirit, who came from the sun to teach them to shoot straight, to build their teepees and to hunt buffalo successfully. The entire designation was "The-face-of-Sour-Spirit-who-went-back-to-the-Sun-after-his-work-was-done mountain." The highway skirting this mountain in Glacier National park is called Going-to-the-Sun highway.

Rule "Great Manchukuo Empire"

Henry Pu-Yi, former "boy emperor" of China, is to become monarch of the new "Great Manchukuo Empire," the Japanese-fooled state of Manchukuo, on March 1 with Yuch Huan, or "Moon Flower," as his consort. He is shown in uniform as commander-in-chief of the Manchukuoan army, his weak eyes shielded by dark glasses, while his delicate, frail wife appears in a picturesque court dress.

The road, five miles long, will be lined all the way by soldiers, for no plebeian foot will be allowed to "profane" the path of the emperor. From the altar Pu-Yi will speed back to his residence for the secular ceremonies. The room in which he is to receive the great jade seal which will invest him with imperial authority, is being enlarged, but it cannot accommodate a fraction of the thousands who seek admission.

Thousands of workmen are laying out a "sacred way" from Pu-Yi's residence to the altar rite. The youthful monarch will pass over it at sunrise, riding in an American automobile.

Stars Make Hit in "Comedy Foursome"

A cast of 33 presented "Comedy Foursome" to a full house and a highly appreciative audience in its first performance last evening in the First Lutheran Church here. The two Lutheran Church houses whose mother wanted her to be an unwelcome English nobleman. Bogardus, the Englishman, was admirably portrayed by Albert Bell. His entrance and makeup were quite a sensation.

The "wedding" scored a grand success. The groom finally found a collar button and the marriage of Bob and Alice (Henry Deane and Edith Hangerford) was solemnized.

The plays have been in rehearsal for two weeks in the organization of the Itinerant Little Theatre Churches and have been under the direction of Miss Marion Turner.

The entire performance will given this evening again at 8 o'clock.

Roger Mable scored another success in his portrayal of Albert Bell in "Not Quite Such a Goose", and proved what a complete change young love makes in a "feller's" life.

The audience could scarcely believe that the Lira who appeared in the second scene of the "Twelve Old Maids" was the poor homely maid of all work in the first scene. This was a fine characterization and the change in appearance wrought made some of the audience inquire as to the price and whereabouts of "Ever-bloom."

The giggler, Mandy Menter from Poughkeepsie, played by Lillian Walker created much amusement as did also the trials of Jemima Rout played by Gertrude Van Allen.

It was difficult to find stars in the

They Satisfy

... people know it!

Same thing with a good cigarette or a good wood-fire.

All you need is a light.

And all you want is a cigarette that keeps tasting right whether you smoke one or a dozen.

That's what people like about Chesterfields. You can count on them. They're milder—and they taste better.

In two words, they satisfy.

That says it.
